Erdoğan: Solution on the island can be achieved

Erdoğan: "If the Greek Cypriot side reaches a sincere and realistic compromise ground, the solution that everybody expects on the island can be achieved"

Turkish President Erdoğan stated that Turkey continues to support the work carried out for the safety and welfare of the TRNC. He also added "How we defend our own rights, we will continue with the same determination to defend the interests of the Turkish Cypriots in the region and in the island."

President Erdoğan held a joint press conference following bilateral meetings with Prime Minister Ersin Tatar who has been in Turkey for a working visit and a meeting between the delegations.

At a joint press conference in the Turkish Presidential Complex in Ankara, Erdoğan said "The emergence of the problem in Cyprus and continuing to date is entirely due to the uncompromising attitude of the Greek Cypriots and added that the Greek Cypriot side still continues to make political and economic attacks".

He added: "If the Greek Cypriot side reaches a sincere and realistic compromise ground, the solution that everybody expects on the island can be achieved. Turkey will continue to take appropriate steps with the TRNC in all areas by its own roadmap".

Erdoğan also criticized the European Union (EU), which accepted the Greek Cypriots as a Member even though they voted "no" in the Annan Plan referendum. He also said that unfortunately although the Turkish Cypriots kept their promises in the Annan Plan referendum, while the Greek Cypriots failed to do so, the Greek Cypriot side joined the EU and the Turkish Cypriot side was excluded. They did not even keep their financial promises to the Turkish Cypriots. This is the EU's own shame.

Erdoğan added "The only interlocutor of the Greek Cypriot side is the TRNC, and they should negotiate the problem on the island together. The EU is in a position to defend the inequality, not equality, injustice, not justice, and not peace but oppression on the island. Unfortunately, every step which was taken by the EU and the international community encourages the Greek Cypriots towards a deadlock, not a solution.

The attitude of the Greek Cypriot side, that does not recognise the TRNC, does not change the fact that it is a society and a state with its history, geography, population, culture, political and economic rights".

Burcu: Improper, Inaccurate, and Inappropriate Approach

TRNC Presidential Spokesperson Barış Burcu touched upon a statement made by the Spokesperson of the Greek Cypriot Administration Prodromos Prodromou on 18th August and stated that Prodromou adopted an improper, inaccurate, and inappropriate approach.

In his written statement, Burcu underlined ‘Primarily, the principle of political equality and active participation in decision making is the main claim of the Turkish Cypriots. This rightful claim, which is supported by Turkey, is a United Nations parameter which is in fact beyond a request.

The principle of a minimum of one positive vote in decisions is one of the points agreed upon by the two sides. On the one hand, the Greek Cypriot leadership express their commitment to the agreements, while on the other hand, they are in a position to deny them via the Spokesperson.

It is not possible for them to evade this conflicting situation by putting forward Turkey’s name’.

Burcu also pointed out that following President Mustafa Akıncı’s meeting with the Greek Cypriot Leader Anastasiades on the 9th of August, they are now making arrangements for the upcoming meetings with Ms. Lute and UN General Secretary Mr Antonio Guterres with a constructive attitude.

Burcu lastly added that they are expecting a similar understanding from the Greek Cypriot side and reminded that such declarations which pollute the atmosphere and impair political equality would not be beneficial.

President Akıncı had telephone conversation with Lute

President Mustafa Akıncı had a telephone conversation with the UN Special Envoy to Cyprus Jane Holl Lute who was appointed by UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres in respect of the Cyprus Issue.

According to the statement made by the Presidency, Akıncı informed Lute regarding the meeting with the Greek Cypriot leader Nikos Anastasiades on 9 August 2019.

It was stated that during the telephone conversation President Akıncı and Lute exchanged their views concerning what steps should be taken for completing the terms of reference.

Turkish Cypriot people are happy with Turkey’s determination

Tatar: “Turkish Cypriot people are happy with Turkey’s determination to protect their rights and interests”

Prime Minister Ersin Tatar stated that as long as the Turkish Republic continues its support and cooperation, the TRNC will continue to strengthen and the welfare of the Turkish Cypriot people will also increase.

In his speech at the joint press meeting with the Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan, Tatar pointed out the importance of Turkey’s steps to protect the rights and interests of the Turkish Cypriot people in the Eastern Mediterranean. Stressing that we should be very careful on the issue of a new negotiation process, Tatar said that the ground for a federal settlement was lost in Crans Montana, a new negotiation process should not start from the stage at which it was left and should be result oriented.

Furthermore, adding that the Turkish Cypriot people have always supported a settlement in Cyprus but Turkey’s guarantee will always be a priority for the Turkish Cypriot side, Tatar stressed that Turkey’s guarantee must continue in the event of a possible agreement in Cyprus.

Minister Üstel opens Gürdağ Integrated Waste Recycling Plant

By Chris Elliott...

We recently published an article about Minister of Tourism and Environment Ünal Üstel making a visit to the Gürdağ Integrated Waste Recycling, Recovery and Disposal Facility. To see article the link is shown at bottom of this page.

Following a further visit by Minister Dt Ünal Üstel to open the Gürdağ facility he wrote about this on his Facebook page and has kindly agreed for us to translate his message into English for a worldwide audience, about the major steps being taken to recycle waste in the TRNC.

Information shared by Minister Dt Ünal Üstel :

"The Hazardous Waste Disposal Facility, which is the first stage of the Gürdağ Integrated Waste Recycling, Recovery and Disposal Facility, was opened with a ceremony held on Monday 19th August 2019.

In the facility, which can be monitored on-line by the relevant departments of the state and non-governmental organizations with accepted membership requirements, appropriate wastes will be recycled as raw materials and the harmful waste which could harm human and other living beings will be disposed of.

Tourism and Environment Minister Ünal Üstel, Economy and Energy Minister Hasan Taçoy, Environment Department Director Abdullah Aktolgalı, President of Chamber of Industry Candan Avunduk and business people attended the opening of the facility in Haspolat.

Ünal Üstel, Minister of Tourism and Environment, emphasized that as the Ministry of Tourism and Environment, protection of the environment and instilling environmental awareness to the new generation is among its priorities.

With the contributions of the Environmental Protection Department, many regulations that will benefit the environment have been put into operation, while some of the regulations come into force the Minister said the opening of the facility today is as a result of the incentives of the Ministry and the Environmental Protection Department.

Explaining that the button has been pressed for the commencement of this facility today with the technical support given to the investor, Üstel said that the new Gürdağ Integrated Waste Recycling and Recycling facility will be a step forward for the recycling and zero waste project.

Expansion and recycling of the appropriate wastes in the plant with the appropriate method of recycling can be made for solid, liquid and gaseous fuel and the plant will be a huge gain on behalf of the country, the Minister stressed.

He also added that out-of-date drugs, pesticides and similar hazardous waste stored safely in the past years, can be processed directly in this facility without storage.

Explaining that the facility can be followed by the Environmental Protection Department via an on-line system, Üstel said that the wastes can be monitored and controlled by the personnel of the department, and that the gas emissions from the facility can be evaluated through the 24-hour online system.

continued Gürdağ Integrated Waste Recycling Plant

Hazardous waste, as well as construction-excavation waste can also be recycled with this facility, he added.

Many years ago, a shipwreck in Kalecik occurred involving oil, which was stored in barrels, flowing into the sea, and we now have a very modern facility to deal with all of these wastes, Üstel said. Director Mustafa Ümit Ersözlü of Gürdağ Trading & Industry Ltd. made a speech and said that they are proud to introduce a new and modern investment which is seen in many developed countries, but not previously in the TRNC.

Ersözlü stated that with the completion of the investment, a large volume of wastes will be processed and explained the importance of the "Hazardous Waste Disposal Facility" plan, with the first part of the integrated facility where waste recycling, recovery and disposal will be made.

Noting that this investment will be a milestone for the TRNC, Ersözlü said that the importance given to the next generations, human and living beings health and nature will be emphasized and the intention to leave a beautiful environment as an inheritance will be an important factor.

Mustafa Ersözlü, added :

'If we ask our people, What should be the income source of this country, what should be produced, what should be done? 90% of people will say 'construction, agriculture and light industry supporting them with the tourism and education sector'. But for the development and growth of these sectors, isn't it necessary to clean the environment and eliminate waste? How much more artificial development can we continue with the excessive incentives and support we give to the sectors mentioned above for the continuity of the economy, stability and increase of national income? How can we improve the tourism and education sector with an unclean, dirty and unhealthy environment? What about our health? The money we spend on health? We already know that many diseases are caused by unhealthy environmental conditions. In the future the support and incentives to be given should be spent on environmental cleanliness of the resources to be transferred, and to take the necessary legal measures in the same way as other developed countries and to introduce methods to dispose of waste.'

Ersözlü emphasized the need for social responsibility for the environment and referred to the fact that waste and garbage should not be mixed and should be dealt with differently from each other."

Music in my life, George Harrison and Eric Clapton

By Ahmet Abdulaziz

The other day I was listening to an old interview of George Harrison, where he was asked about his relationship with Eric Clapton. Interestingly he gave an outright reply, saying, “well we shared the same wife”.

It was such a blatant reply that I had never expected of him. Though I knew the whole story, yet still such a reply took me back to the triangle of George Harrison, Pattie Boyd and Eric Clapton.

Eric and George had developed a good understanding during the 1960s, when George was on his way to becoming a celebrity as a Beatle. In the same period of time, Eric too had established himself as a fantastic guitarist, who had made his own name in the music world, as songwriter, singer, and musician.

However, for those who do not know the triangle of George, Eric, and Pattie, I am repeating here this interesting story of those years.

Pattie Boyd born in 1944 was an English model and photographer. She was one of the leading international models during the 1960s. Her life, however, took a turn, when she was asked to appear in a short role in a movie being made about the Beatles. That short presence of Pattie on the set had made George Harrison develop a liking for her.

They entered into friendship and got married in 1966 when the Beatles were at the height of their career.

However as time passed by, they started having troubles. Their married life started facing problems, which ultimately led to a divorce in 1977.

At the time when Pattie was having difficulties in her marriage to George Harrison, Eric Clapton entered into her life. Being a family friend, Eric was always close to her, however, the two developed a good relationship as Pattie found it difficult to continue with George.

Eric and Pattie married in 1979. George Harrison remained friendly with them. He jokingly used to mention Eric as his “Husband in Law”. Their marriage ultimately ended in 1989.

With this whole story in mind, I came across two wonderful songs of Eric Clapton and George Harrison, which I felt had a direct connection with the triangle that I have mentioned above.

These songs are “Wonderful Tonight” by Eric Clapton and “While my Guitar Gently Weeps” by George Harrison.

<https://youtu.be/vUSzL2leaFM>

<https://youtu.be/i8rVI7AMKiY>

In his song, George says:.....

“ I don't know why nobody told you
How to unfold your love
I don't know how someone controlled you
They bought and sold you”

However, George appeared further complaining by saying.....

“I don't know how you were diverted
You were perverted too
inverted
No one alerted you “

I believe that both the songwriters were deeply affected by their personal feelings, which became more than evident in the words of their songs.

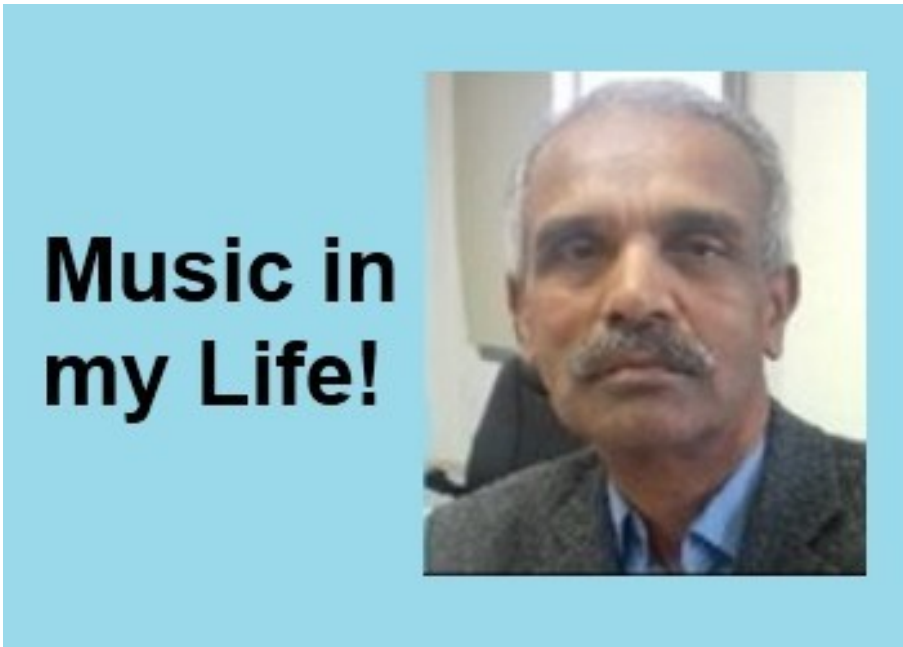

Whereas in his song Eric wrote for Pattie, saying.....

“I feel wonderful because I see
The love light in your eyes
And the wonder of it all
Is that you just don't realise how much I love you”

On the other side, Eric praised the same Pattie by saying.....

“And then I tell her, as I turn out the light
I say, "My darling, you were
wonderful tonight
Oh my darling, you were
wonderful tonight.”

However it was not just the words, the tune, the music of both the songs are so fantastic, that still they remain as one of the most popular songs.

KAR - News Update

1,2,3,4,5, - that how many cats before my eyes !

Welcome to the TRNC - Maddison (a recently clipped blue torti Persian), Pepsi (a black Siamese cross), Peep (a silver/tabby/white Devon Rex), Riley (a silver/white Devon Rex cross) and Murphy (a chocolate Devon Rex cross).

All 5 arrived safely, on Friday night, and on time at Ercan and as a KAR representative was bringing them in from the apron - travellers were laughing and counting how many more were coming through! 4 came in the aircraft hold and one was in the cabin. Their relocation had been delayed a little so as to avoid the Bayram holidays.

Not forgetting Martin and Lisa - welcome to your new home - it was lovely to see you all together (finally!) here in the TRNC.

Jannie Rambusch – 18th August

I love this place. Such friendly staff, they are so dedicated and you can easily feel that all the dogs get a lot of human interaction.

I recommend to visit this place and meet the dogs. We have had the best day, walking some of the dogs and the grand tour. If you have the opportunity, please donate a little (or more), it will help them so much. I hope to go again some day and bring one home with me.

This is Olivia, 6 weeks old, sole survivor of a dog attack on her mum and siblings. Surrendered to KAR office today (19th August).

Health checked and fine. Currently in foster care, but will home to experienced carer of young kittens.

We all know the worth of our volunteers - they are the backbone of KAR along with our supporters, but some volunteers do so much more than we ask of them.

Steve is one - he comes to TRNC regularly - sometimes on his own and sometimes along with partner Lisa and teenage son Ben. Whenever they come they are up at our Rescue Centre helping most days for the whole of their holidays.

Steve and Ben have been coming to the centre for 7 years! During that time they have walked many dogs and one of Ben's favourites was his sponsor dog Sid (who was happily adopted to Holland). Ben always said that IF he was lucky enough to have a dog of his own, at home, he would call it Sid too.

Whilst they are here Steve will usually come up and work one day (cementing, cleaning, repairing - anything that he sees that needs doing - he does it) and then the family come up the next day and walk several dogs and help with the puppies. Then the next day Steve is back up repairing and fixing, and so it goes on throughout their holiday.

The family are just coming to the end of their 3 week holiday and they are going to be missed by everyone at KAR. The dogs love them and we love them coming as they are a lovely caring hardworking family who we rely on so much while they are here - they are true 4* Volunteers.

Steve our Mr Fix It, Lisa our Trail Walker, Ben our young ardent volunteer. THANK YOU.

See you later in the year Steve, Bye Lisa until next time, Ben give your very own Sid a hug from his KAR friends (and tell him all about a very special KAR friend!)

Katie Economidou concert at Hati's Cafe, Esentepe

By Margaret Sheard

We were disappointed that we were unable to make it to the previous concert of Katie Economidou at Hati's Cafe, and pleased that Sunset Concert No. 2 was held on the 17th August and this time we were able to attend.

When we arrived, Katie, accompanied by Zara Barkhoudarian on piano, had just started the performance and we enjoyed the first half of the concert with songs by Katie singing solo and also as a duet with Zara. Katie mingled amongst the audience while singing which was so nice.

There was in the region of 38 people who had booked to enjoy the concert in the small garden at Hati's Cafe, so it was full to overflowing and Hati's helpers, one of which was her sister, were never still as they looked after the guests' drinks orders.

While all this was going on Hati was busy in the kitchen preparing a superb hot and cold buffet, single handed. For that many people, I cannot imagine how she does it, but the result, when we had an interval to help ourselves from the buffet, was a wonderful array of freshly prepared food. To add to this, as we were all tucking in to our plates of food, a chicken kleftiko also arrived for each person. We decided to miss out on the dessert which also arrived a little later.

Katie and Zara then proceeded to entertain us, again with Katie wandering around the tables and singing to the guests.

It was a lovely concert which I am sure was enjoyed by everyone there. We stayed a little longer after most of the guests had left and enjoyed a coffee and a chat with Katie and Zara, who also had a long journey home.

Well done Hati, you again provided a wonderful evening of classical and popular music and a lovely buffet meal.

Stephen Day, RBL member lays wreath at the National Arboretum

We were so pleased to be able to attend the unveiling of the Cyprus Rock Memorial at the National Arboretum in Alrewas, Staffordshire, UK on 21st August 2016.

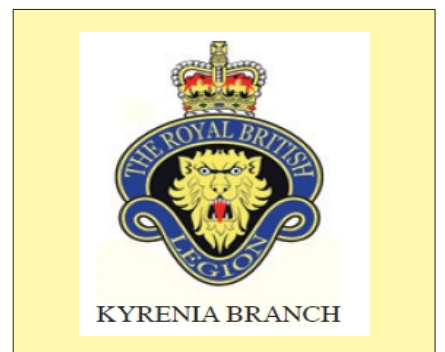

Later that year on 16th November, we made another visit to the Arboretum and at that time, being close to Remembrance Sunday, we laid a wreath and crosses given to us by the then Chairman, Brian Thomas, on behalf of the Royal British Legion, Kyrenia Branch. See link to article below :

Sadly we haven't been able to attend any of the following annual services which are held on the closest Sunday to the unveiling date of 21st August.

We were very pleased to receive the following information from RBL Kyrenia Branch :

" Stephen Day, RBL member and Cyprus Today columnist, laid a wreath on Monday 1st July 2019 on the Cyprus Rock memorial at the National Arboretum, Alrewas, Staffordshire, on behalf of the RBL Kyrenia Branch in honour of those who died in the service of the Crown during the Cyprus Emergency of the late 1950's. "

Hope 4 Pets - News Update

Post by Emma Eminsoy 17th August

Pembe was rushed as an emergency to the vets - she wasn't moving and was struggling to breathe.

Whilst you always hope for the best it's fair to say both the vet and I were braced for the worst as she looked so poorly on that night, I felt helpless as I left her with the nurse to continue her treatment and monitor her throughout the rest of the night. I couldn't sleep and held my breath every time my phone notification sounded for fear it was bad news. Her life at that point in time could have gone either way which is why I have left it until now to post as I didn't want to tempt fate.

We know that Pembe, who was the only female in the litter, is very small for her age in comparison to her brothers who are, I am told, at least 3 times the size of her. So she is either the runt of the litter or maybe has a problem that will need investigation - like a thyroid imbalance. She will need to be older and stronger before this or anything else can be tested.

I am so happy and more than relieved to report that currently she is doing really well and even passed the 500g weight threshold two days ago. She is a fighter and another example that little miracles do happen.

Because we don't know what was actually the cause of her deteriorated state I kiss her goodnight at bedtime but to date I am apprehensive next morning until I see her run to me for her breakfast which she now is eating enthusiastically, followed by a chat and a cuddle.

She finished her actual treatment program yesterday and is just having a few more days of vitamins to support her immune system. We are appealing for your help to pay her veterinary bill please.

Hope 4 Pets promoted in the UK

Message from Stephanie Harrison-Croft 20th August

Hope 4 Pets organised and instigated by Elizabeth Stowell have attended 3 dog shows this year so far, Lurcher Link in June, a small Fun dog show held at the Causeway Foot Pub and the Colne Valley Beagles & Lurcher, Terrier Show held in Huddersfield, on 18th August.

This is what Liz has told us :

This is the first year we have tried to raise awareness of H4P in the UK and we are getting our name out there whatever the weather throws at us.

On Sunday 18th August, we spoke to a wide variety of people some who had never visited the island, some who had visited both North and South Cyprus, one man in particular who had a holiday home in North Cyprus and had never heard of H4P, but now does!

We even advised an American couple about Leishmania as they told us that there was a real problem in the US and dogs were being destroyed, so we told them about the drugs used by the vets in North Cyprus to tackle Leishmania, and were very grateful for the information.

We gave out lots of leaflets and although on this occasion we didn't sell vast amounts we made £82.20, but the publicity was priceless.

The stall sells, homemade dog treats, handmade treat bags and Cross body handbags, glasses cases and purses, we also have hand knitted dog snoods made by Janie Voltaire, who is a volunteer for H4P in the UK.

H4P have a young lady called Helena Booth who is running the Windermere Marathon for us next May, which hopefully will raise awareness of the Charity, which we hope will be in the local newspapers. She will also be representing H4P on two dates in September at Jolly's pet store in Keighley, shaking tins and doing a tombola, again to raise awareness, taking with her, the family dog Major which is a H4P rescue.

We have a few other dog shows/ village Fetes/Craft Fair's in the pipeline, which we will confirm nearer the events and which will be posted on Facebook.

Air Tour North Cyprus and air sports at Geçitkale Airport

By Margaret Sheard

Having visited Geçitkale Airport on a number of occasions and written about our experiences and the fantastic air sports opportunities which are available, we were interested to learn more about another new introduction – Air Tour North Cyprus which operates under the direct control of Serkan Ozcezarli, under the umbrella of the TRNC Air Sports Federation.

Serkan can be contacted on 0548 834 9686.

We made another visit recently and met up with Pilot, Peter Fabry, who was that day taking a group of 4 people on a tour of the Karpaz area. Peter told us he has only recently moved to North Cyprus and he is very keen to be able to show people the wonder of this part of the island from the air.

While he was waiting for his group to arrive, Peter told us a little about himself. He is of Belgian nationality and has always had a love of flying. His father and brother are both pilots and Peter actually flew a glider at the age of 14 years. At the age of 15 years and 3 months, in his 16th birthday year, he was allowed to fly solo in a glider.

From Geçitkale Airport, Peter flies a 6 seater Cessna aircraft for air tours and it is also used for skydiving for those brave enough to try it.

The passengers arrived for their air tour and Peter took the aircraft off for re-fuelling and when he returned the passengers boarded and off they went for an hour's tour of the Karpaz. More details are also available on the Facebook page: Air Tour North Cyprus.

Air Tour North Cyprus offers a private flight tour service giving an excellent opportunity to explore the beautiful coastline and historical sites. They recommend contact being made in advance and although last minute calls are welcomed, availability cannot be guaranteed.

The aircraft is a US made Cessna 210, single engine aircraft, which will allow 4 passengers plus their guide and the pilot. It is a high wing construction which makes it extremely stable and perfect for sightseeing. The Cessna 210 is also equipped with a special door which can be opened in flight for aerial photography.

Flights can be of 30-40 minute or 1 hour 10 minutes/1hr 20 minutes duration. Children are welcome but if a child is under 5 years old, consultation will need to be made with the Air Tour staff.

There are weight limit regulations and when booking you will be asked for your weight and that of any luggage/equipment you will be taking on board, but it is advised that only necessary belongings should be carried.

It is recommended that passengers weighing 265lbs (120kg) or more should not apply to use the air tour service.

Trips are tailor made therefore individual quotations are provided for each trip. Generally current prices are as shown below, both with a minimum of 4 and maximum of 5 passengers.

• Full Karpaz Air Tour: 130€ or £120

(1h10min-1h20min)

Air Tours at Geçitkale Airport

We decided to wait for their return and during this time were pleased to see Serkan Ozcezarli arrive, accompanied by his twin daughters, Cansu and Göksu who are both learning to fly the Gyrocopter.

The girls are 18 years old and have had 8 hours training so far from the 30 hours needed to apply for a licence, Serkan said they had been flying with him since they were 3 years old, hence their love of the sky.

We saw Cansu off for her hour's training with instructor Ahmet and later Göksu cycled to the landing area to take over and complete her own hour's training and we followed her to see the Gyrocopter coming to land and changeover of trainee pilots. I have enjoyed the experience of flying in the Gyrocopter myself when Serkan took me up for a short flight and I have very much admiration for these two young ladies who are learning to fly at such a young age. To see the article of my own experience the link is shown below:

Serkan told us of his hopes and dreams of expanding the Air Sports Federation with a hangar for visiting private aircraft and also training schools with accommodation at the airport for students, however, all of this would need a huge financial input, which is not available at the moment.

The TRNC Air Sports Federation are trying very hard to promote this alternative type of tourism attraction, and they are in fact doing much more now than when we first visited them.

We hope that the Federation will go from strength to strength and expand their services for the benefit of tourism and those who love flying. This is yet another great achievement in North

Cyprus to encourage visitors to come to this lovely part of the island of Cyprus.

New in Ozankoy, Vicky's Kitchen

By Margaret Sheard

Being out for most of the morning recently we decided to stop off at the new Vicky's Kitchen for something to eat.

We had noticed that the cafe had changed hands again, and we had previously visited on many occasions when it was Maggie's Cafe. We met the new owners of the cafe. Alan Mentesh and his Hungarian wife, who we will call Vicky (the name of the cafe) and they told us they had taken over the premises 2 months ago and carried out a vast amount of refurbishment as well as replacing kitchen equipment and cooking utensils.

We decided on a very late breakfast and ordered a full English breakfast and a vegetarian version, with grilled hellim to replace the sausage and bacon.

When our breakfasts arrived, they were huge and I had difficulty in finishing mine, nearly but not quite.

While we were waiting we had a long chat with Alan, a Turkish Cypriot who left Cyprus when he was 5 years old and has spent most of his life in the UK. We also looked at the menu (in Turkish and English), which is very varied, including Turkish and English breakfasts, omelettes, toasted sandwiches, pastas, schnitzel, chicken dishes, salads, burgers, meatballs, stroganoff and Hungarian goulash. A nice range to tempt the taste buds.

You can find Vicky's Kitchen on the main Girne to Catalkoy road just past Erdener and opposite Deniz Plaza. The cafe is open from 8am to 6pm Monday to Saturday and they hope later to also open in the evening.

We wish Alan and Vicky every success with their new venture and will certainly be visiting Vicky's Kitchen again to sample something else from their nice menu.

EMU Astronomy Course for Secondary School students

By Ahmet Abdulaziz

On 5th and 7th August 2019, the Eastern Mediterranean University organised a short Astronomy course for Secondary School students.

The course was aimed to improve the knowledge of young students, above 12 years of age, with knowledge of Space, and was organised by the Arts and Sciences Faculty, Department of Physics, of the University.

The dates of the course were specifically selected because these were when a clear view of stars and planets would be available. The students were not only provided with information but were also encouraged to express their views and opinions. The students also improved their knowledge by asking questions.

The observation was carried out with a telescope from the inventory of Yenil Ögmen's Green Island Observatory. The students and instructors were presented with certificates upon completion of the course.

Painting exhibitions at Near East University

By Ahmet Abdulaziz...

The Near East University organised three painting exhibitions last week. These exhibitions are scheduled to continue to the end of the month.

The first exhibition consists of 26 artworks of 10 Albanian artists.

The second exhibition includes 41 artworks of 9 artists from Kazakhstan.

The third ongoing exhibition has put on display 36 artworks of 8 artists from Kyrgyzstan.

All of the artworks have been specially produced by the artists to be part of the Cyprus Museum of Modern Arts.

The 26 paintings by 10 Albanian artists reveal the extraordinary vision of the artists not only through strong and contrasting colours over the representational or realistic values retained by impressionism but also through abstract figures emphasizing the meaning behind the forms and colours.

The exhibition was inaugurated by Dr. Faiz Sucuoğlu, the Minister of Labour and Social Security.

Speaking on behalf of the Albanian artists, Parid Dule expressed their happiness of being hosted in Cyprus. "I would like to express our gratitude for providing us with the opportunity to arrange and share this exhibition with you.

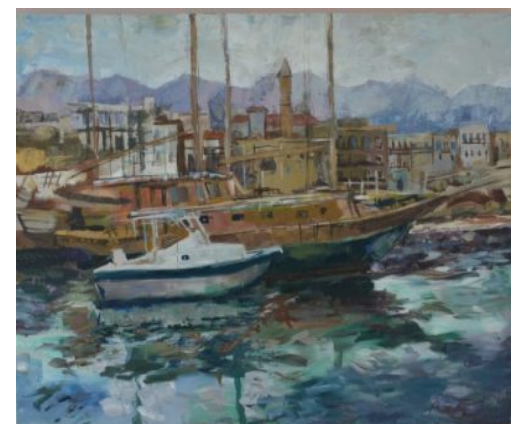

We have come to Cyprus for the first time. We are very happy to be here and leave our marks via our art. That's why we will never forget it. We thank you for inviting us here and for your interest and hospitality".

The second exhibition put on display 41 artworks of Kazakhstan artists. In general they reveal Kazakh culture, in addition to abstract and philosophical expressions.

Speaking on behalf of the Kazakh artists, Umurali Ismailov stated that the voice, culture and art of the Turkic people is beginning to be heard internationally through the Near East University. On behalf of the Kazakh artists, he expressed great gratitude to Dr. Suat Günsel for enabling them to take part in such an important project.

The Kyrgyzstan Artists Exhibition consisting of 36 artworks which were also produced exclusively for the Cyprus Museum of Modern Arts. The exhibition was inaugurated by the Minister of Economy and Energy Hasan Taçoy.

Zola Budd and Mary Decker and that Fall

By Ahmet Abdulaziz ..

The year was 1984. The Olympics in Los Angeles were being held. In those days and in Pakistan the TV used to give highlights of the developments late at night.

At that time my first interest was in field hockey, but athletics was the next.

At the time the sports media had predicted a big clash in the 3000 metres women's race, between Mary Decker and Zola Budd. Mary Decker of USA, by that time had quite a lot of records and track achievements to her credit, and was the most favoured in the finals of the 3000 meters race.

Zola Budd, a teenager at that time, was not well known at that time, but was expected to give Decker a tough time in the finals, due to her track performances in past. She was originally from South Africa, where she had earned a name as an athlete for herself. Since South Africa at that time was not allowed in the international sports events, Budd was hurriedly brought to the United Kingdom, where she was granted British citizenship, to qualify for the Olympics games.

Zola Budd was about 18 and Mary Decker 26, when they entered the final race of 3000 meters in the Los Angeles Olympics in 1984.

The sports lovers were expecting a very tough competition between the two, as both had performed very well in the heats. Most of the experts had predicted Decker to win the gold, and silver for Budd.

But ultimately what happened on that particular evening, had never been thought of by any expert. That particular final race of 3000 meters ultimately went down in sports history as one of the most controversial races. The final race for gold medal had started in a normal fashion. Young Budd was running without shoes, which had also added to her popularity. Both the runners started off very close to each other, with Budd ahead of Decker. Then all of sudden Decker collided with Budd, and fell down, off the track. She was injured and could not continue the race. Budd, on the other hand, was startled, lost concentration and finished up seventh. The race was ultimately won by Maricica Puica of Romania.

In a post race press conference, Decker blamed Budd for her fall. She was dejected, and her hopes of winning the Olympic Gold were no more. She was furious. Budd on the other hand did not accept any fault on her part story for days to come. But the unfortunate incident had happened. Both the famous runners had lost their chances of winning the Olympic Gold medal, and had become part of one of the most controversial sports events of all times.

Both the athletes further continued their career, and then retired. But still now and then the sports media restart evaluating that particular sad incident. Many books were written, and innumerable articles were written by analysts. Both of them have appeared in a number of television shows during the last 35 years. For them the time has passed, but still they cannot forget that particular race, which made both of them memorable in sports history.

Esentepe slip to embarrassing defeat

Result: Esentepe KKS 0 Dörtöl SK 1

By Richard Beale....

Saturday August 17 : Esentepe Erdal Barut Stadium.

The momentum gained from a morale boosting win against Karsiyaka in their last friendly match was eroded away when Esentepe produced a demoralising performance against newly promoted Dörtöl.

After watching England's Test bowlers for most of the day trying to find a way of dismissing Australia's batsman Steve Smith, then Esentepe efforts of trying to score a goal, resulted in the same frustrations. England in the end managed to dismiss Smith after knocking him out! but there was no knockout punch from Esentepe's goal shy forwards.

Esentepe have plenty of defenders and midfield players, but at the present time have only two forwards on their books, these are inexperienced youngsters, so no wonder they failed to score.

The Club have pursued various options and are still trying to sign a couple of forwards but as usual lack of money have thwarted them.

Dörtöl who were promoted to League 1 from the amateur BTM League a few months ago have invested heavily in the transfer market. They produced a hard working team performance, they look well organised, with their defence being particularly strong.

Esentepe with only one striker (Hürkan) on show today struggled to find any rhythm and momentum giving the ball away too often or losing the ball with poor passing.

Match highlights were few and far

Action photos with Esentepe in the red strip

between the closest Esentepe came to scoring was from a corner in the 6th minute that saw a Tuğrul header strike the top of the crossbar.

At the other end Esentepe goalkeeper Onur made a brilliant save in the 30th minute, diving and tipping over the bar a snap shot from a Dörtöl forward.

Dörtöl scored the only goal of the game in the 36th minute, when Esentepe failed to clear a corner, the ball was returned into the area again where ÖMER GÜNER planted a firm header past Onur 1-0.

In the second half Dörtöl were content to defend their lead and rely on breakaways.

Esentepe huffed and puffed having a couple of shots which went over the bar or wide of the post.

In was only in the last minute that the Dörtöl keeper had a telling save to make, when Kaan on the left produced a good run on the left, cutting inside before producing a shot that had the goalkeeper diving to his left to save.

Not many positives to take from this match, Vurkan was again Esentepe's best player, his brother Kaan also turned in a useful performance.

At the back Kagan Arsu again looked steady and assured and young defender Tuğrul continues to impress in these warm up matches.
