Where is America in the Cypriot Dispute?

Letter from America..... By Roger L Jennings.....

The dispute between Greek and Turkish Cypriots could be settled by the US in two days, but the US takes no action.

The US has been represented by A. Wes Mitchell of the US State Department who just resigned and Jonathan Cohen before Mitchell. Both sold their souls to the Greek Cypriots. Give the Greeks credit.

The Greeks have lived by the guile of their diplomacy since the year 1453, and are the best diplomats in the world. The proof is they have the UN and EU completely supporting Greek positions.

The Greeks have only one objective. Pursuant to the Megali Idea, the Greeks want all Turks to either leave Cyprus or to be subordinate to the Greeks. That is unrealistic.

Secretary Pompeo is pre-occupied with North Korea, China, Russia and other issues. He is not involved in the Cypriot dispute. With Mitchell now out of the way, the US Ambassador in south Cyprus could contact Secretary Pompeo requesting action to bring peace and prosperity for all Cypriots. Does she have the initiative?

The US State Department is a huge bureaucracy rather than the residence of diplomats. If Mitchell, Cohen, and others had ever taken Diplomacy 101 in school, they would understand that both Greece and Turkey are allies of the US. Therefore, the role of the US should be to mediate disputes without taking the side of one country. As soon as the US takes one side, the US alienates the other side. Can the US Ambassador in south Cyprus separate herself from the bureaucracy by contacting a Republican Secretary of State?

If you want to work for the US Federal Government, have a long, successful career, and get promoted, you have to support the Democratic Party. So employees of the State Department, including the Ambassador to south Cyprus, are just waiting for a Democrat to be elected as President. President Trump's election was a rejection of the Democrats by the American people. The only question is whether he will drain the Swamp of Democrats to restore democratic traditions. The answer will come from the new Attorney General, William Barr. However, Mr. Barr will not be looking at the US position in Cyprus.

Each nation has its own persona. The French are very different from Germans. The French and Germans are very different from the British. The three are very different from the Japanese. Turks are very different from Greeks. Turks are a resolute people, the kind who would not give ground to the Allies at Gallipoli. You should never challenge a Turk, because they will never submit.

President Trump does not like the UN or EU. He also does not have anyone advising him about the history and issues of Cyprus. He is ignorant about Cyprus. However, he belongs to the American nation. The American nation supports the oppressed. The TRNC is oppressed. Currently President Trump is supporting the people of Venezuela along with 65 other countries in their attempt to remove the dictator Maduro from office. The UN still supports Maduro.

Daily the TRNC Government blames the Greeks for the problems of Cyprus. The TRNC officials have attended more meetings and given more speeches than anyone can count, but the problem has not been moved one centimeter. TRNC officials have been contacted numerous times about steps that would resolve the disputes between north and south Cyprus, but have been unresponsive. The suggestion of an outsider is like a confrontation to a Turkish official. They are resolute to do nothing on behalf of the Turkish Cypriot people. They defend their ground like it is Gallipoli.

The solution is quite simple. The TRNC or US Ambassador through the Secretary of State should ask President Trump to appoint an envoy as the President's personal representative. The person should be knowledgeable in the history of relations between Greece and Turkey, and the issues in Cyprus. President Trump, unlike all the other US Presidents, will take immediate action.

The action to take is for the US and TRNC to establish mutual diplomatic relations and commercial trade. The OIC countries will do the same. The TRNC will get economically stronger. The incomes of Turkish Cypriots will increase, and the TRNC will no longer have its hand out begging for financial support from Turkey. The TRNC will strengthen its own identity.

The TRNC Government will not ask for help like the soldiers at Gallipoli, or Ismet Inonu at Eskisehir. The Greek Army at Eskisehir was about to wipe out the Turkish Army. The Turkish Army was only saved, because Gazi Mustafa Kemal ordered his good friend to retreat to fight another day at the Sakarya River. There is no Gazi in the TRNC, or official who has learned from the Gazi. The Turkish Cypriot persona is preventing peace and prosperity from developing in the TRNC.

Until someone figures out how to contact President Trump so the plight of the Turkish Cypriot people can be addressed, both north and south Cyprus are at great risk.

Trevor's Tips: Driving Licence and Plumbers

Readers mail....

We receive many enquiries for information in response to our publications on Cyprusscene and below are some replies from my wife Mary to enquiries about TRNC driving licences and plumbers.

Thank you ,
Trevor Hughes

Subject: TRNC Driving Licence

Hi,
I have resided in the TRNC for the last 14 years. I understand that to legally own a D.L. you do need to obtain Temporary Residency even if one is over 60 years of age .
Regards,
Terry, Catalkoy

Hi Terry

You do not need Temporary Residency to obtain a TRNC driving licence if you are aged over 60 years, If you come to Capital Bank in Alsancak, Mary has all the forms and will guide you through the process.

Subject: Plumber

Hello Trevor,
We hope you are fine.
We are very thankful If you could share a contact information for a good plumber and it's a plus if he could speak some English.
Do you still write news round? It was very good and helpful news.
Thank you!

Kind regards
Nazdar Fransson

Reply:

Hi Nazdar
Yes I still do the news round, I will check if you are still on the contacts list for you. The plumber is CEMEL 0533 860 2654 AND HE SPEAKS ENGLISH.

Everyone, including UN, knows that there is no document dated 4th of July 2017

The Presidential Spokesman Barış Burcu said that a meaningless debate was raging in South Cyprus however everyone, including the UN, knows that there was no document tabled on the 4th of July 2017. Pointing out that there was only one Guterres Framework document which was presented to the two sides on the 30th of June 2017, Burcu added that as has been stated by President Mustafa Akıncı if this document is to be included in any discussion as of this point onwards, it must be taken as it is, without being watered down or distorted.

The Presidential Spokesman stated that it was clear that such unproductive debates by the Greek Cypriot side did not contribute in any way to the solution of the Cyprus Problem. "Our expectation is for the Greek Cypriot side to abandon such debates and to clarify its vision towards the future of Cyprus" he stressed.

Burcu also said that President Mustafa Akıncı will be attending the leaders' meeting on the 26th February 2019, with a constructive and sincere attitude to listen to Anastasiades' clarification of his proposal for a decentralized federation as well as any other ideas he may have.

Özersay : The negotiation process in Cyprus has collapsed

Underlining that the federal partnership model based on sharing in Cyprus was tried and exhausted, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs Kudret Özersay stated that the negotiation process in Cyprus has actually collapsed.

In his statement to AA correspondent, Özersay reiterated that the Greek Cypriot side can carry out their unilateral natural gas exploration activities in the Eastern Mediterranean in the context of international references as the Turkish Cypriot side has mentioned before.

Özersay announced that the TRNC and Turkey would start natural gas exploration activities in areas that belong to them under the licences given.

Pointing out that there is a duty for the international community and energy companies to encourage the Greek Cypriot side to obtain the consent of the Turkish Cypriot side in the natural gas exploration activities in the Eastern Mediterranean, Özersay said that this was not the case up to now.

Özersay indicated that the Turkish Cypriot side was not in a position to wait for the international community to take a step forward and continued:

As the TRNC we shall use our means, instruments and capabilities in order to prevent the Greek Cypriot side from usurping our rights. We shall try to implement our own rights by ourselves. I think that everyone has noted that we are doing this in a diplomatic and peaceful way.

Kudret Özersay stated that the negotiation process has actually collapsed following the Cyprus Conference in Crans-Montana in Switzerland and the approach of the UN is towards this direction.

Özersay stated that in the period of the Annan Plan in 2004 it was tried to conduct a closed end negotiation method based on a calendar and it was exhausted.

'It is a proven reality for all of us what cannot be done in the Cyprus Negotiations. A federal partnership based on sharing has been discussed for 50 years in Cyprus and has been tried and exhausted.

If the Greek Side will not come close to a partnership based on sharing, a cooperation-based partnership should be tried.

However if the Greek Side will also not accept a cooperation-based partnership, they will find themselves sharing the island without their consent'.

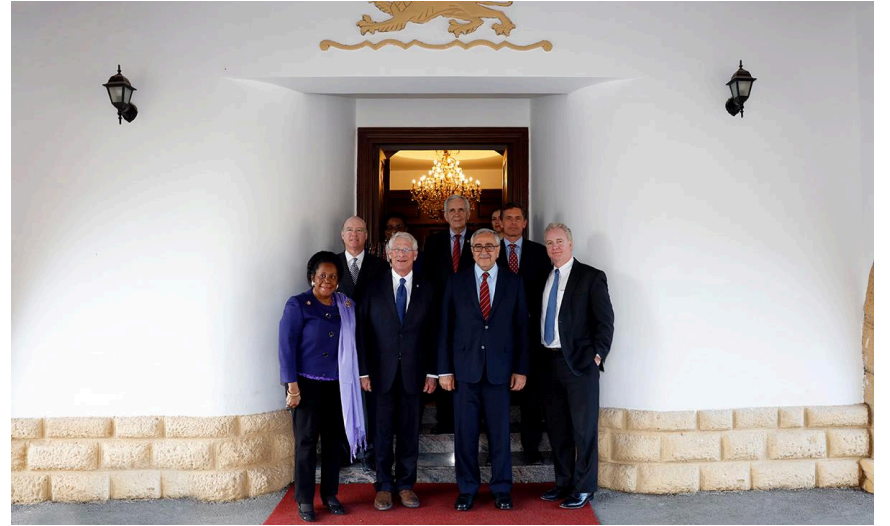

22nd February to 28th February 2019

Akinci met with US Congress Members

President Mustafa Akıncı met with a delegation of the US Senate and House of Representatives members under the Chairmanship of the US Senator from Mississippi and Head of US Congress Helsinki Commission Roger Wicker.

At the meeting, which took place at the TRNC Presidency, President Akıncı and the delegation discussed the latest stage reached in the Cyprus Problem and exchanged opinions on the confidence building measures. The Turkish Cypriot side's views and thoughts were conveyed to the delegation composed of Bob Casey, Martin Heinrich, Tom Udall, Mike Lee, Chris Van Hollen, Lloyd Doggett, Robert Aderholt, Gwen Moore and Lee Zeldin who are all Senators and members of the US House of Representatives.

Anastasiades must clarify what he means on 26 February

President Mustafa Akıncı and Prime Minister Tufan Erhürman held a one-hour meeting today within the framework of their regular weekly meeting.

In his statement following the meeting, Erhürman pointed out that Anastasiades is expected to define his statements so far at the meeting on the 26th of February, 2019.

Indicating that Anastasiades has put forward different concepts for a long period of time and insistently refrains from making these concepts definite, Erhürman said that he needs to clarify what he means at this informal meeting so that other things can be discussed.

Erhürman also mentioned that some issues such as mobile phones and electricity within the context of confidence-building measures did not materialise due to the reluctant attitude of the Greek Cypriot side and added that although the two leaders agreed on the realization of these issues, the Greek Cypriot side avoided taking the steps, and progress could not be achieved.

Stating that the Turkish Cypriot side will not negotiate for the sake of negotiating, Erhürman said that it was not possible to negotiate on conditions where political equality was not accepted.

Erhürman said: "If Anastasiades' current approach continues at the meeting, it wouldn't be wrong to say that any result cannot be achieved"

Çavuşoğlu: “We are starting to drill around Cyprus”

Turkish Foreign Minister Mevlüt Çavuşoğlu said: “We are starting to drill with two vessels around Cyprus in the coming days “

In his speech at an event, Çavuşoğlu touched upon the Cyprus problem and said: “Cyprus is both a strategic target and a national cause for us”

Çavuşoğlu, continued as follows: "Natural resources in the Aegean,

Eastern Mediterranean and Cyprus are a strategic target and a national cause for us. We never let the rights of the Turkish Cypriot people and Turkey be violated and we shall never let it be in the future. We are starting to drill with two vessels around Cyprus in the coming days.

Nothing can be carried out in the Mediterranean excluding Turkey, we will never allow this.”

Come on, Let's Twist Again

By Ahmet Abdulaziz ....

Everybody knows that I usually do not use my car, unless it is a long drive. But during the last few days, I did have to use my car frequently.

The FM radio of my car is always on. Interestingly on all these occasions when I used the car, I found this song on air. I am referring to the title of this article. Yes I mean "Let's Twist again", by Chubby Checker.

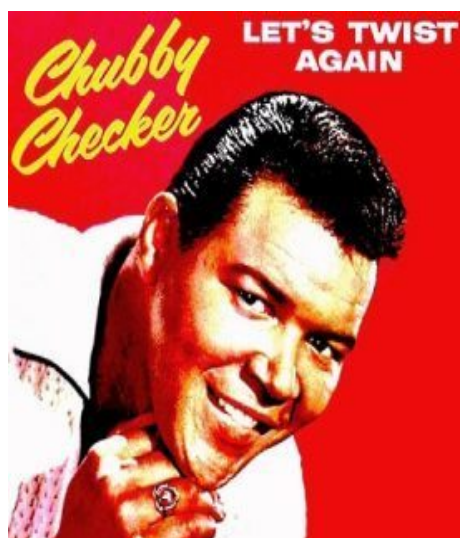

Of course I had listened to this song frequently during the 1960s, when the twist craze had engulfed the whole world. In fact that was the period when we in Pakistan did not have Television service, so there was no chance of watching people dancing the twist, but listening to these songs on the radio now and then, were sufficient to make us feel the power of music. Just listening used to make us dance inside our souls.

I remember reading about the world-wide twist craze in that era, through LIFE and TIME magazines, of which my father was a subscriber.

Twist was a totally different type of dance, which had come up in place of the slow dances of the 1950s. Though Rock and Roll was also popular in those days, yet the twist was a far faster type of dance.

I would like to share excerpts from Wikipedia, as under :

" The twist is a dance that was inspired by rock and roll music. From 1959 to the early sixties it became a worldwide dance craze, enjoying immense popularity while drawing controversies from critics who felt it was too provocative. It inspired dances such as the Jerk, the Pony, the Watusi, the Mashed Potato, the

Monkey, and the Funky Chicken, but none were as popular.

Having seen teenagers in Tampa, Florida doing the dance, Hank Ballard wrote "The TWIST" and released it as the B side of Hank Ballard and 'The Midnighter' 1959 single "Teardrops on Your Letter". Dick Clark, having noticed the dance becoming popular among teenagers, recommended to Cameo Records that the more wholesome Chubby Checker re-record the song, which was released in 1959 and became a number one hit in 1960. The dance became passé among teenagers as it became acceptable among adults and the song was released, becoming a number one hit again in 1962.

A world record was set in DeLand Florida, on October 11, 1962, when Chubby Checker sang the song live and the crowd danced. An estimated 4,000 people twisted along with Checker, surpassing the previous Guinness World Record for most people twisting in the streets at once. "

And now after a long, long gap, when a school going lad like me has crossed the 60 age bar, it is really wonderful to find my soul swirling again on the twist beat.

Here are the words of this fantastic song, which I am sure would make all young and old feel their souls dancing aloud.

LET'S TWIST AGAIN

Come on let's twist again
Like you did last summer
Yeah, let's twist again
Like you did last year
Do you remember when Things were really hummin'
Yeah let's twist again
Twist the time is here
Well, around and round and up
and down
We go again
Come on baby make me know you love me so
Let's twist again
Like you did last summer
Yeah, let's twist again
Like you did last year
Well, around and round and up
and down
We go again .....

KAR - News Update

Dubai - Part 2

We all know how time flies when you are having fun ... but for Poppy and KAR Pet Travel 7 years has simply flown by.

It had been 7 years - to the day - since KAR Pet Travel had last seen Poppy. She was one of the first 15 dogs and cats to travel on our, what was then, ground breaking organized Overland Trips from TRNC to the UK. She had been chosen, by Kim, as the new member of the Guthrie family.

After a long and eventful journey Poppy arrived in the UK. Although Poppy was somewhat bigger than Ian and Dilys had been expecting they were delighted with her. She was such a happy loving dog and fitted very well into the Guthrie household.

After a short while in the UK Ian and Dilys (and pets) were relocating to Dubai. There followed regular updates from them .....

"Can't believe it's been a whole year since Poppy arrived from Kyrenia Animal Rescue (KAR) after a very long 14 day overland trip with Animal Couriers. She certainly wasn't the little dog we had originally sponsored, but had turned into a gorgeous big, cuddly rug. Me, Ian, Toby, the 3 cats can't remember life without her now and we wouldn't change her for the world"

Since being in Dubai Ian and Dilys have made many trips to the TRNC and recently came to us with the very exciting news that they would be coming to live in TRNC - they had purchased a house here.

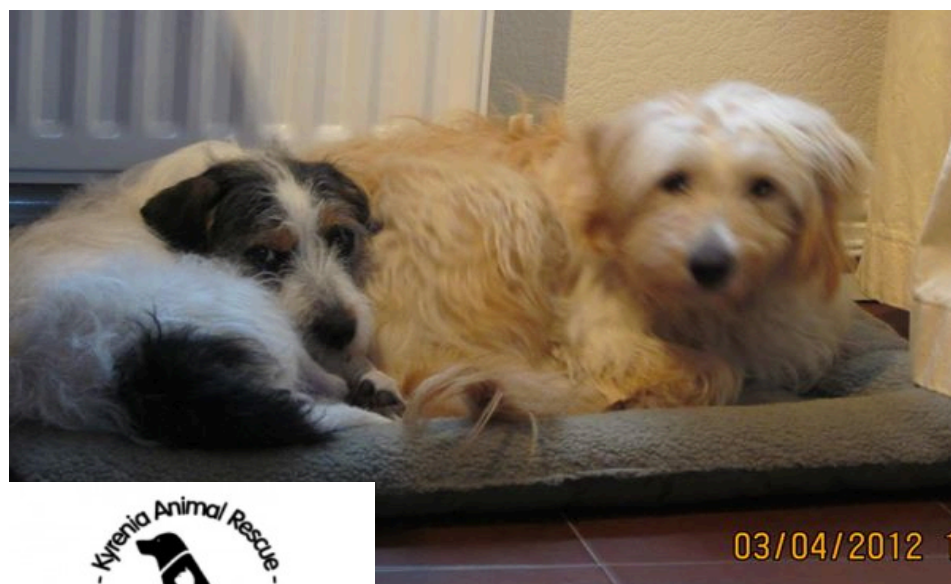

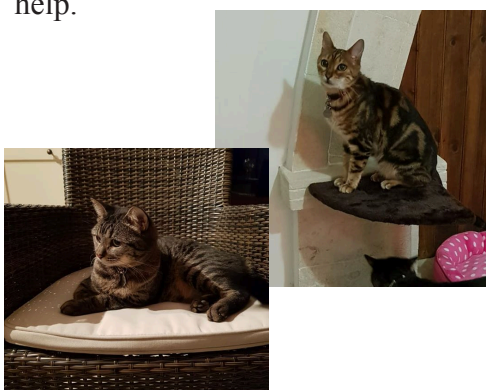

So the planning began - for Poppy, Toby, Binky and Bruno to travel from Dubai to TRNC. No doubt Poppy had lots to tell the others about their new upcoming move - being a seasoned TRNC'er.

So here we were 7 years down the line and Poppy (and her buddies) had finally arrived back in the TRNC. Kim and Poppy had last seen each other at Girne New Harbour on Feb 14th 2012 - where Kim had checked Poppy's paperwork chip, given her a last cuddle before settling her into her allocated kennel and then together with Margaret (plus local press and supporters) had waved Goodbye to Poppy and her fellow 14 travelling companions.

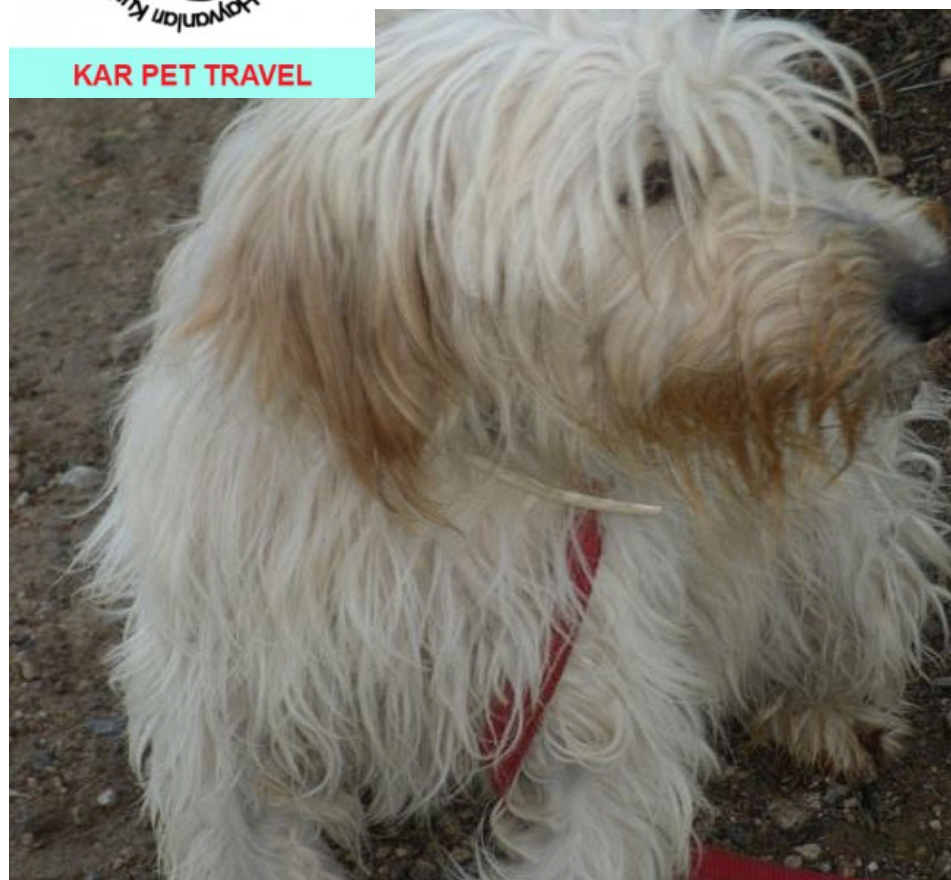

Again Poppy's (and the other 3) paperwork and microchip was checked, customs and vet TRNC checks completed and it was time for a reunion cuddle for Kim and Poppy and a welcome fuss for the others before Poppy was taken home - home in the TRNC with all of her family.

Time flies that is so true - but during that time how much has changed for pet relocation into/out of TRNC for pets !!!

The one thing that has not changed (and we are sure it will not) is the wonderful pets and owners who we have had the privilege to meet and to help.

Lucky Lucky Luka

Do you remember last year we sent out an appeal to find Luka's owner after he had been found wandering on the streets by some visitors last August. Although we shared Luka's photos and advertised for his owner - no one claimed him.

But Luka's picture had been seen on here and he captured the hearts of Issie and Adam. Adam flew over to meet him and Luka was adopted. Issie and Adam are regular visitors here and they wanted to take him home to the UK. However it had already become apparent that Luka was not settling well at our Rescue Center (where he had been since we were unable to find his original owner) and everyone was worried how he would cope during the 4 month timescale he needed to be prepared for the UK. He was depressed and was also feeling very anxious being up there - not all dogs can settle into shelter life even if they are only there for a limited time.

Luckily for KAR one of our most experienced foster carers had space and agreed that Luka could stay with her (and her many cats and dogs) during the preparation process. Luka is a real character and he certainly made his presence felt at the Foster home and amongst the other pets!

Last week it was finally time for Luka to fly to the UK. Because of his breed (snub nosed) it was decided that it would be better for Luka to fly to Brussels and Issie and Adam would collect him there and then continue to the UK. This involves a much shorter travel time and no long cargo transit layover at Istanbul.

Everything went like clockwork for Luka - he and his courier arrived in Brussels half an hour early and after his entry process was completed he was very happily reunited with Adam - and introduced to Issie and her parents. All 5 of them left Brussels airport and set off for Calais and the final leg into UK - they would hopefully be home in time for tea!

One of the advantages of this option, for pet relocators, is that we can see (without being seen) how airline and airport staff actually handle pets during their travel. We are all aware now of how caring they are at Ercan Airport but often owners worry about what happens to their pets, and how are they treated, at Istanbul.

During Luka's transfer onto his Brussels flight I managed to take some photos - he was treated with the utmost care. Even taking him off of the trolley to go onto the travelator was done very carefully. At one point after his box was carefully put onto the travelator to take him into the aircraft - the Istanbul ground crew actually waved him goodbye!

Again at Brussels his transfer through to Animal Collection was seamless and he arrived via his own personal porter. Without everyone's involvement Luka may not have been so lucky.

Lucky lucky Luka - lucky is the word that is so very true
To have met so many people who all cared about you
From the visitors who picked you up thinking you were lost
To KAR who cared for you whatever the cost
To the family who offered you a new home in a new place
To the foster home whose cats you did chase
Everyone has played their own part
In helping you on the way to a brand new start.

Long may you be Lucky, Lucky Luka.

On the road with cyclist Abdulhalim Akçay : Part 3

By Ahmet Abdulaziz ...

As you know Abdulhalim Akçay, a cyclist, is presently touring Turkey on his bicycle. He intends to complete his tour, covering 81 provinces and 800 districts in a two year period. Cyprusscene.com is following him on a day to day basis.

Hereunder is a summary of his ongoing adventure from 13th to 19th February 2019.

77th day (13/02/2019)

Spent whole day inside in Gümüldür area, as there was heavy rain outside. He had plans to go to the Menderes area, but could not due to the weather.

78th day (14/02/2019)

Started off from Gümüldür, towards Menderes and Torbali areas. At the speed of 12 kilometres per hour he ultimately reached Menderes. On his way he had stopped for lunch at Ataköy. The strong wind was creating problem, yet he continued moving forward. He had to stop to do some minor repairs to his bicycle, but luckily it was not a serious fault.

He continued to reach Torbali, where Zeliha hanim of Warmshowers arranged for a night's stay.

The total mileage covered that day was 92 km.

79th day (15/02/2019)

After having a good night's sleep, and breakfast at Torbali, he started off for Bayindir. There were flowers not just on both sides of the road but everywhere.

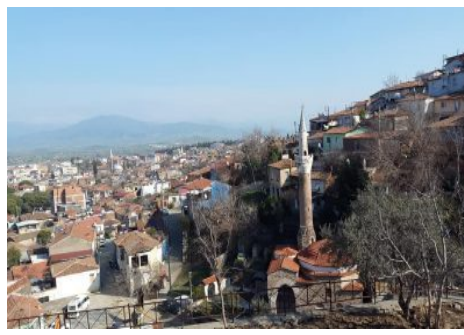

Spent the night at Tire.

80th day (16/02/2019)

There were a couple of people who extended their hands to help me in Tire. Left Tire around midday, left for Birgi village.

The whole route was windy, and it took much labour to move forward.

81st day (17/02/2019)

Spent last night in the camp in Birgi village. The night was somewhat cool. He continued to pass through the Bucak village, after passing through a hilly area. From there he started off for Kiraz, which is also an important place in the area.

After Kiraz, Baydağ was the next stop, which he reached at sunset. Finding a place to stay for the night was difficult, however ultimately the local municipality provided him with a nice room to spend the night.

82nd day (18/02/2019)

Started off at about 9am next morning from Beydağ to Nazilli. The route was tough and it was difficult to move on the hilly zigzag road. However there was natural beauty all the way. Here Enis Buğra Tosun and his family arranged for his night's stay.

83rd day (19/02/2019)

After spending a relaxed night, the next morning he took off from Nazilli towards Kuyucak and Karacasu districts. The whole area was beautiful. Mr. Özgür Dedeoluk of Aydın's newspaper did a detailed interview.

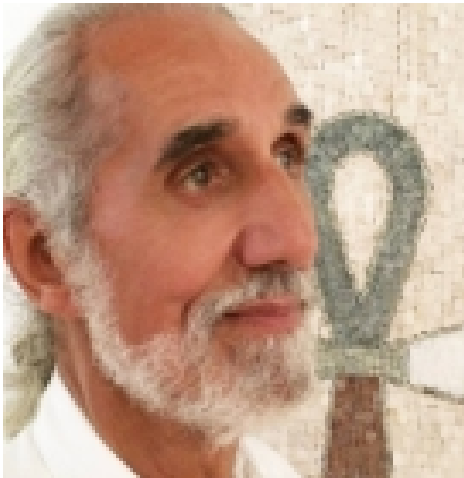

He came across some representatives of UNICEF, who took photographs of him. The Karacasu Municipality arranged for his night's stay at the guest house of the Municipality.

The Quest - Part 3 - GLASTONBURY TOR

By Nick Vye ....
Sanctuary ....

Zac phoned Peter a week later to see if he was ready for the next adventure, Where to now asks Peter. Well said Zac how about Glastonbury Tor in Somerset. Peter gasped, I've heard a lot about that place, they say it's very mystical and has connections with the King Arthur and Avalon Legend. You up for it then mate, he paused waiting for Peter's answer. You bet Zac, I need to have more of that peaceful feeling I had at Stonehenge with you .I've felt a lot different since then. Glad to hear it Zac replied. Okay how about Halloween weekend that should spook you out Peter, Zac laughed. They made the necessary arrangements and Zac ended the call.

Halloween that year fell on a Saturday night, so they can travel down in the afternoon stay the night and return early Sunday afternoon. At least then Peter would have some time with his family. His wife might wonder what they were up to but she got along fine with Zac and trusted him also, and her children loved him. Often asking when Uncle Zac was coming to visit. Zac had a good connection with children, he was aware their imagination was sometimes really true and they had many spiritual experiences.

Zac heard the sound of Peter's van horn beep outside. He grabbed his rucksack and went out of the front door to greet his friend. Peter was full of life and excited about this next adventure into the unknown and Zac was such interesting company. They always had a laugh at something and the bond between them was like they were brothers and he looked up to him.

The weather was kind to them and sunny spells made the drive down pleasant enough. What's the plan then Peter asked. Well said Zac, we need to be up on the Tor where the old church ruin stands before midnight. Then we will walk slowly around it a few times before, at 1.00am we sit and contemplate to feel the energy there and experience what it has to tell us and share, who knows.

After dinner in Glastonbury Main Street, they walked along looking at all the occult and mystical shop windows. Peter was totally fascinated. There was so much to see and take in. I had no idea Zac that so many people would find this interesting. Times they're a changing, quote Zac, from a Bob Dylan song he liked. Some of the shops were still open at 8.00pm. So they went into one of them called The Crystal Cave. Peter knew Zac had plenty of knowledge about crystals and had taught and lectured regarding them. Something caught Peter's eye and he moved nearer to get a better look. It was a nice Smokey Quartz shaped like a pyramid about 6 ins high on a polished round piece of dark wood, with a LED. light beneath it, which shone up through the crystal, giving it a mysterious glow inside. Oh I must have this he said excitedly. It cost £50 but Peter would have paid more. He left the shop happy.

The Tor is fairly steep and they took their time walking up it. A light wind was blowing but the sky was clear with stars twinkling. The moon was almost full and gave the old church an eerie glow, which was perfect for Halloween night. It had gone 11.00pm when they started the climb up. Peter had brought the torch again and also a Thermos Flask with tea in it for later on. Peter was so organized when away from home and in his mobile van Zac noticed. When they reached the top of the Tor, they both stood and admired the view, Zac pointing out places of interest to Peter.

Twelve-o'clock came and a church bell in the distance struck. Okay said Zac we will start the slow walk around the church, while I chant the HU mantra sound to increase the energy vibrations here. Peter felt a slow pulse of energy in his body begin and his head felt fuzzy, almost like it was totally empty. He was following behind Zac who was chanting the mantra slowly as he walked ahead of him. Peter couldn't believe how he felt, almost as though he was being transported around the Tor by some unseen force. It was a very strange feeling for him but he was getting to like it. Wow Zac can do this at any time, what a feat, able to escape the heavy vibrations of the city and people without taking drugs or tablets. How many times they went round he didn't know or care, the sound of Zac's chanting had mesmerised him and again time had ceased to exist for him.

It was almost 1.00am when he

became aware of Zac's voice, gently telling him, we will stop now and sit on our mats and tune into the energies here, as the Glastonbury Tor is the Heart Chakra of the planet Earth. Focus your attention on your heart and feel the pulse of Mother Earth within and around you, breathe slowly and deeply and let your consciousness expand and try to become one with all around you, Zac said firmly. All was very quiet and still as they sat up there, the moonlight on them and peace and contentment flowed through them as they became one, The I of the ego had vanished, only the attunement with the earth and nature existed for them. All else didn't exist, they were totally in the Now.

When they finally came down from the Tor, they were speechless and made their way to the camper van.

Both fell asleep quickly but Peter's last thought was Oh my God, this is only the beginning for me.

The Foreign Residents in the TRNC (TFR)

By Pamela Tschersich ....

I have drawn up a tentative draft of coming events....subject to a date change if problems occur!!

Please note that that a decision was made to re-book Deniz Kizi again for this year's Christmas event after taking into careful consideration several issues, being mainly from the cool food, which has been addressed.

Horst and I did an afternoon with our respective other halves doing a lot of leg work to all the hotels that we thought could accommodate us...all had carpet flooring...the prices were way higher than we have been used to...some did not decorate the room....mainly the rooms were too big for our usual numbers who attend plus no special overnight discount...plus transport would be needed into Girne for these hotels. The price we have been quoted for this year for an all inclusive package has only risen by 10 liras....so all in all a decision was made as most people were not interested in a non inclusive package, especially at today's drinks prices!!

Slimmers World, Catalkoy, Easter Prize Draw and Raffle

By Margaret Sheard ....

Slimmers World meet every Saturday morning at 10.30am at Sartaj Restaurant in Catalkoy and as well as a program of weight loss for the members and a nice social gathering, they also try to help local animal charities from contributions and raffles.

This year they will be supporting both Kyrenia Animal Rescue (KAR) and Hope 4 Pets North Cyprus.

This is what Val Stuart-Traynor has said about the Easter event.

“Really well done everyone. Raffle prizes and hamper are really coming on. Plus a meal at Sartaj, a bottle of rose wine and bottle of brandy. Thank you everyone x

Come and join us at Slimmers World Catalkoy not only do we lose weight eating the foods we like but have great fun and raise money for charity”.

Hope 4 Pets - News Update

Pups at Caesar's Complex

Posting by Stephanie Harrison-Croft ....

***UPDATE*** it has become apparent that all 10 puppies and the Mum have disappeared!! So many people have worked long and hard to help this family including Suzan Fehmi, Ian Moll, Chris, FARC sponsors and H4P. If anyone has any information please pm any admin. We are all gutted beyond words. These puppies were going to safety today. The Mum had to be sedated to be caught when she was spayed as she was so nervous.

This is just such devastating news.

Previous Update on the 10 pups at Caesars complex.

These pups after being evicted with toys, bedding, bowls have now found a temporary home with the wonderful Suzan Fehmi until they go to FARC, for which she also secured a placement and who have been good enough to agree to take all the pups.

As no one has come forward to home even one puppy the shelter will give them some stability and secure future above what they have on the streets, thank you.

H4P are proud to have been able to set up all 10 pups health care and spayed Mum in good stead with a full vaccination and worming program along with toys, treats and bedding. We wish we could have found homes but sadly this has not transpired.

I hope that you all find your forever homes babies x

Further post ...

The 10 pups that were at Caesar Bay after being taken from there and dumped at another location have been found and are being looked after until myself and Ian can collect them later today and take them to K9 until they have their 2nd vaccinations next week then they will be taken to FARC who have kindly agreed to take them.

How people can DUMP poor innocent pups I shall never understand.

Facebook posting - Hope 4 Pets

This little boy is the last surviving of his litter on our street. He hurt his leg and developed an infection when he was about 1.5 months old. At the vet's advice, I took him inside while he healed. He is now about 4.5 months old, healthy, very social, gets along with other cats and loves to snuggle with humans. Please share in the hope of finding him a home.

Tulips Lambousa Market stall has fantastic start to the year!

Readers Mail.....

From Linda Hillard

Tulips Help Those With Cancer Association...

The Tulips stall at Lambousa market is going from strength to strength with a record amount of money raised on the first seven Saturdays of this year. 7,292 TL was raised in January and so far this month a fantastic figure of 6,489TL has been raised on the stall, all the money raised helps the Association fund treatment for an ever growing number of cancer patients, since the beginning of this year Tulips are now seeing 3 new patients every 2 days. This illustrates just how important this income is to the Association.

Traditionally this time of the year is quiet at Lambousa Market but even more so this year because of the cold, wet weather we have been having. The Tulips stall at Lambousa is already well known amongst locals and the ex-pat community as the place to find good quality items at very good prices, selling everything from clothing, footwear and handbags to general bric-a-brac, books and dvd's. From time to time the stall will have a theme like soft furnishings when good quality bedding and soft furnishings are for sale, one such stall was held in early February and this raised 1,000 TL.

This year the Association have introduced Tulips reusable bags, the Saturday before last was a 'Tulips bag promotion day' on the stall, with the invitation to 'buy and fill a Tulips bag with 6 items of clothing or 6 books for a total of 25TL'. This was particularly well received and 1,800 TL was raised.

The Tulips bags at 15TL are proving very popular, the good news is that from next week in addition to the Tulips stall at Lambousa these will also be available from the Best Seller bookshops in Karakum and Alsancak, from Amore Beauty Salon in Lapta and are already available from Boutique Cyprus Gift Shop in Girne. Gill Moon will be selling the bags in the Esentepe area and she can be contacted on 0533 877 1036.

Of course with having such a busy stall at Lambousa they are always in need of more donations to keep up with demand, if you have any items that you would like to donate please give Lynda Hillard a call on 0533 873 1693, she is always happy to collect from you. The Lambousa stall is run entirely by volunteers, if you could spare some time to help with the sorting and pricing of donations (this is done in Lapta) or would like to help on the stall on a Saturday morning please give Lynda a call.

Christmas Swim at Acapulco beach - fantastic charity donations

Presentation to Kemal Saracoglu (above) and Tulips (below)

We were delighted to be able to tell our readers that on Christmas Day 2018 at 10.00am a hardy and brave group of swimmers arrived at Acapulco Hotel beach for their big chilly dip and the event was sponsored by CREDITWEST BANK and a provision was made so that additional contributions could be made to this great fund raising event.

Barbara Fursman the organiser of this event told us with great excitement that 17,205TL was raised and 8,602.50TL each was presented to the Kemal Saracoglu Foundation for Children with Leukemia and Fight against Cancer, and Tulips - Help those with Cancer Association.

Not just a small achievement by NEU researchers

By Ahmet Abdulaziz.....

The researchers attached to the Near East University, have recently succeeded in preparing software, that automatically converts sign language into written text. However small this achievement may appear, it is a big achievement in a field where there is still much room for development and further research.

According to the information provided by the Near East University the engineers at Near East University Faculty of Engineering Applied Intelligence Research Center have developed software which is able to translate sign language for people with hearing disabilities, and turn it into letters and text for the hearing people who do not understand sign language.

Taking into consideration not only the limited options for people with hearing disabilities who use sign language as their primary means of communication but also the challenges that may confront a deaf person trying to converse with folks who do not know signing language, NEU engineers have developed a sign-recognition software program that can translate sign language into text.

NEU engineers, who have developed many software programs for autonomous cars, for enabling the disabled to use the mouse and the cursor with head and eye movements, for manual remote object control, for the detection of epilepsy from brain signals, for the detection of the sleeping mode of the driver in a vehicle, stated that they had been continuing to conduct different research studies to serve humanity adding that they would share the results of these studies through scientific publications and conferences under the name of Near East University and the Applied Artificial Intelligence Center.

EMU Students - automated water-feeding station for stray animals

By Ahmet Abdulaziz.....

The students of Eastern Mediterranean, voluntarily made an automated water-feeding station for stray animals.

According to the information released by the University, EMU Engineering Faculty, Industrial Engineering Department students Adel Omar Abdülkhaliq and Abdel-Rahman Ali Taha worked on this project of the Community Involvement Center.

The students stated that as a result of the course which contributed to their social responsibility awareness level, they are proud to be putting their names to a project that can be implemented. The students also expressed their happiness for completing the project for EMU, which boasts an animal-friendly campus.

Having completed the project within a period of ten days, the students stated that they aim to provide stray animals with food and water in an uninterrupted fashion.

Saying that they have taken the first step with the development of a feeding-water station, Abdülkhaliq and Ali Taha said “We have to help the stray animals. Living on the streets contains separate difficulties both in winter and summer. We have taken the first step. Now it’s your turn. We want our project to contribute to the whole city. In this respect, we hope that the municipalities or the government take responsibility and support the automated feeding-water stations.”

The biggest support for the project was put forward by EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Necdet Osam, Communication Faculty, Public Relations and Advertising Department Chair Assoc. Prof. Dr. Anıl Kemal Kaya, Vice Department Chair Assist. Prof. Dr. Umut Ayman and Foreign Languages and English Preparatory School academic staff member Fayka Güresun.

In this respect, the Feeding-Water Station will soon be activated in front of the Registrar’s Office Building.

Esentepe hopes sink in the mud and rain

By Richard Beale ..

Result : Girne Halk Evi 5 Esentepe KKS 1

Saturday 16 February 2019 : K-Pet Super League : Girne 20 Temmuz Mete Adanır Stadium.

When arriving at the Stadium, we were surprised when told that the match was still on. On entering the arena the race track surrounding the pitch resembled a moat, the pitch itself was what can be described as a “paddy field” with many areas under water.

However referee Osman passed the surface playable but it soon came apparent that this match was more like a “Keystone Cops” slapstick comedy sketch! Both sets of players found difficulty remaining on their feet, passing the ball usually resulted in it ending in a puddle. The opening stages were littered with errors as players strips soon resembled that of Rugby players.

I offer no excuses for Esentepe, Girne Halk Evi (GHE) adapted to the water better than Esentepe, it was a shame that such a crucial match had to be played in those conditions.

In the GHE side was a certain Lomana Tresor Lua Lua, yes that Lua Lua of the triple back somersault when celebrated a goal and of course an ex Premiership player who plied his trade with Newcastle, Portsmouth, Colchester and Blackpool. At 37 years of age he has put on some weight and maybe he cannot do his goal celebrations now, but he still has a footballing brain and skill at his disposal. He tormented the Esentepe defence scoring a goal and assisting in three more.

I must mention Referee Osman Özpaşa who had an excellent match, making sensible decisions and allowing for the bad playing conditions.

"Splish Splash having a splash" GHE (black) and Esentepe struggle in the wet.

MATCH NOTES :

4 mins : GHE scored with their first attack of the match with a simple goal Kaan on the right crossed to the far post where LUA LUA all alone unmarked headed in. 1-0.

11 mins : Esentepe equalised with a scrappy goal scored by AHMET ÇAĞER. Junior found Efosa on the left the Nigerian whipped in a cross finding Ahmet whose shot took a deflection off Mustafa before completely deceiving Goalkeeper Okyanus and trickled over the line. 1-1

12 mins ; Immediately from the restart GHE regained the lead Yankı crossed from the right Lu Lua header was parried by Onur straight to KAAAN who made no mistake. 2-1

13 mins : It was end to end stuff and Esentepe were unlucky not to equalise when following a Uğurcan cross Sane tried an overhead kick only to see his effort hit the right hand post and trickle along the line before it was cleared.

17 mins : GHE increased their lead when Kaan at the far post did well to hold onto the ball before setting up JAMES to score with a low shot that beat Onur. 3-1

The match continued in these farcical conditions, defenders could not turn on the muddy surface, the match was a lottery.

27 mins : GHE almost scored again Mustafa Yasinses hit a shot in the area that Onur did well to dive and parry, the ball rebounded to Yankı but under pressure from Şahin and Mustafa he prodded the ball wide.

The game quietened down a little Onur in the Esentepe goal though was far the busier of the two goalies making a couple of useful saves.

HALF TIME : 3-1

51 mins : Any hope of Esentepe coming back into the game were dashed when James found Lua Lua beat on the left, he beat Hasan before squaring the ball across to YANKI to score. 4-1

63 mins : At last the GHE goalkeeper Okaynus was brought into action leaping to his left to push a long shot from substitute Mahmut around the post for a corner. From that corner Okaynus dropped the ball which fell to Efosa standing on the edge of the box whose lob went just over the bar .

78 mins : Another bad goal given away by Esentepe Uğurcan lost possession on the left Yankı came inside the area, Onur dived at his feet but the ball rebounded back to YANKI who from a very acute angle shot at goal, Hasan tried to scoop it out, but it was adjudged to have crossed over the line.

FULL TIME SCORE : 5-1

SUMMING UP :

Though the conditions were the same for both teams, GHE wanted it more they were ALL committed to the cause, whereas some Esentepe players went missing. Not going to criticise them because of the appalling conditions, this defeat hurt.
