

FLYING ANGELS

THE GROUND BREAKING PROJECT FROM GIRNE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

Together with our students of the
-Nursing School
-Faculty of Education, Pre-school education Department
-Faculty of Humanities, Psychology Department
We are starting to offer a unique and exemplary service for the senior citizens and children of our community with sensitivity, social responsibility and care.

The foundations of a strong community are the health and happiness of its individuals.

Our students are prepared to present the following services for our senior citizens in their own homes, as a means of facilitating general health and quality of life:

- personal care
- healthy eating
- mental health
- book and newspaper reading
- developing hobbies

To support the healthy development of our children we shall, in the comfort of their own home with their parents, engage in:

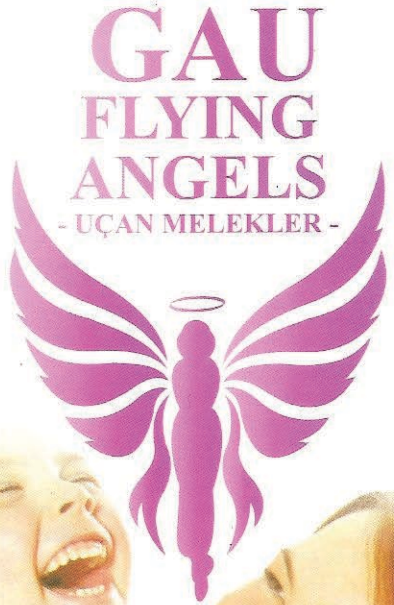

- effective basic pre-school education
- dissemination of information and skills for early-stage childcare

Our team awaits your requests for the contribution towards your child's

- cognitive
- social
- emotional and
- psychomotor development

With this project, our aim is to offer services to our community in the comforts of their own homes with scientific background and professional supervision. In doing so, we aim to contribute to community health and development.

GAU Flying Angels are at your service for personal and community development.
